Assistance to vulnerable populations in Libya through cash, QIPs and communication with communities

Project 14DGK

June 2018
Background relevant to the mission

As part of its project funded by UNHCR, ACTED is implementing a project to support IDPs, returnees and host communities throughout Libya through cash grants, quick impact projects and advocacy campaigns.

The overall objective is to reduce the vulnerability of conflict-affected populations across the three regions of Libya.

The general objective is to provide multi-sectoral cash assistance to 1,200 internally displaced, non-displaced and returnee households; the implementation of approximately 15 to 20 quick impact projects; and the delivery of awareness-raising campaigns to ensure IDPs and IDP returnees in Benghazi and Ajdabiya have access to life-saving information.

The specific objective is to ensure that the population has sufficient basic and domestic items, that peaceful co-existence with local communities is promoted, and public attitudes towards persons of concern are improved.

This TOR is concerned with the third component of the project, namely communication with communities. Assessments will be conducted by technical consultants to determine key information that should be disseminated in the fields of health, water, sanitation, shelter and security. This information includes alerts, best practices, and relevant service providers.

Area of Intervention: Benghazi and Ajdabiya
