

Supporting Livelihoods Through Cultural Heritage Development

To improve livelihoods of vulnerable Jordanians and Syrian refugees in Irbid governorate while enhancing access to tourism in the area, thus creating economic opportunities in the long-term.

ACTED will support the improvement of livelihoods of vulnerable Jordanians and Syrian refugees in Irbid governorate while enhancing access to tourism in the area and thus creating long-term economic opportunity.

ACTED will therefore manage and oversee approximately 375 beneficiaries through short-term job opportunities to rehabilitate and maintain selected heritage sites of Pella and Beit Eidis.

Pella was built during the Neolithic period but has been successively occupied throughout Hellenic, Roman, Byzantine and Islamic periods. The Byzantine site of Beit Edis (or 'Jesus' Cave') lies along the 'Jordan Trail', 33 km south-west of Irbid.

Location

Pella (Tabaqat Fahl) and Beit Eidis, Irbid Governate

Target Beneficiaries

Approximately 375 Syrian refugees and vulnerable Jordanians directly managed by ACTED

Project Duration

6 months

MAIN ACTIVITIES

Conservation measures to be taken under the project include, mosaic preservation, trail design, fencing installation and general rehabilitation of heritage buildings in Pella and Beit Edis.

To ensure the proper understanding of conversation principles of cultural heritage sites, ACTED will support workers through awareness raising sessions and technical trainings.

In order to ensure inclusive economic opportunities, ACTED will manage workers in adherence to decent working conditions.

At the end of the short-term employment periods, ACTED will continue supporting participants through post-employment services. This process will not only support livelihoods post-intervention but also allow ACTED to understand the workers' satisfaction levels, future job expectations. feedback and to develop management capacities for future action.
